optical design of reflective wide-field cameras - optical design of reflective wide-field cameras jose sasian college of optical sciences university of arizona tucson, arizona 85721, usa abstract this paper discusses some methodologies that apply to the optical design of reflective wide-field cameras. among the methods considered are off-axis and eccentric pupil systems, concatenation of laser-induced contamination on high-reflective optics - reflective optics perform under contamination conditions in order to understand the contamination process and to be able to deliver suitable optics for space applications. the current knowledge of the contamination process will be explained in section 2.1. all tested coatings are made by laser optik garbsen gmbh on fused silica substrates and ... optical coatings for chara reflective optics - chara* optical coatings for chara reflective optics s.t. ridgway abstract: high efficiency coatings offer significant advantages for chara, but all options come with a substantial price and compromises. many available commercial options horiba scientific - fluorometers - modular research fluorometers available. this is the result of increased signal due the optimized design of the all reflective optics, the photon counting signal collection method, and the reduction of stray light by the choice of gratings and baffling. measure smaller samples, detect smaller changes. big discoveries come from small changes dts0020 - reflectors - fiber optic (fixed or variable) - an in-line reflector. contact oz optics for further details. laser diodes or lasers with long coherence lengths can cause etalon effects in fiber optic reflectors. dts0020 oz optics reserves the right to change any specifications without prior notice. 3 march 2017 1 reflective coating for lightweight x-ray optics - nasa - reflective coating for lightweight x-ray optics kai-wing chan", william w. zhangb, david windt", mao-ling hon~d, timo sahab, ryan mccllelland, marton sharped, vivek h. dwivedi , 'center for research and exploration in space science and technology;
